

Covid-19 Kudos Solutions Announcement

Jeff and all of the staff at Kudos Solutions are aware of the increasing concerns nationally regarding the Virus. We are well placed to deal with the disruption that may occur and have now taken the decision to work from home until further notice. Our focus is on providing a continuous and excellent level of service, but we may well choose to limit face to face meetings where they are not absolutely necessary. We continue to work on your project/task whilst maintaining sensible precautions and as with all businesses, will be taking advice from the Government and its Medical Advisors.

It goes without saying, it is business as usual, and we will continue to give you our usual professionalism and attention.

If you have any concerns, please call the office (phones have been diverted) to discuss.
